

NO HANG-OVER OF BUSINESS AS WILSON LEAVES

President Anxious That His Cabinet Complete Its Work
Before Friday.

WILSON'S STRENGTH GONE
Retiring President May Be Unable to Attend Suc-cessor's Inauguration.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1921)

Washington.—President Wilson has shown in these last few days of his administration a desire to cooperate with the new president and his official family and he has moreover insisted that everything he cleared up in the way of records and official business in the various departments.

Mr. Wilson's latest act was to suggest that congress be furnished copies of all correspondence in the treasury department relating to loans with foreign governments. A carload of documents accordingly went to the capitol and thus ended a controversy the exact nature of which may be puzzling to the outside world and it is equally perplexing to people in Washington. The treasury has declared from the start that so far as the United States government was concerned, the documents contained nothing that need be concealed from the American people but that the communications from the foreign governments revealed facts about their fiscal standing which might or might not be embarrassing to them if made public on account of possible ill-effect on the relations between one foreign government and another. Secretary Hutton was cautious enough to seek advice from the secretary of state because the latter is more familiar with the viewpoint of foreign governments than is the head of the treasury department.

Passes Back to Senate

It is a fact that certain members of the senate judiciary committee privately told members of the Wilson cabinet that there was really no special purpose to be served in forcing the documents out of the privacy of the treasury but nevertheless those same senators voted with the others in an unanimous request that the information be sent to congress. This has puzzled the administration and was one of the things discussed in the final cabinet meeting of Tuesday. President Wilson, however, took the position that the action of the senate judiciary committee was clear and that if any disadvantage to the good relations of the United States resulted from the publication of the data, the responsibility would rest with those who make the information public, and that so far as the Wilson administration was concerned it should accede to the request of the senate as expressed in the resolution calling for the documents.

Outside of a discussion of the foreign loans, to which there was nothing new to be added except to send the data to the senate, the cabinet talked of routine matters at its final meeting. The president made sure that every department secretary had concluded every piece of business which required executive sanction and the meeting came to an end. Then it was that Secretary Colby made a brief speech on behalf of the cabinet and Mr. Wilson thanked the cabinet for the service to him and shook hands with each. Farwells of this kind always have an element of pathos but it was unmistakable that the departure of Woodrow Wilson from the cabinet meeting seemed to carry with it more elements of tragedy and defeat than is customary with the outgoing executive. This is because Mr. Wilson's health is far from good and because his present physical condition is the direct result of his overwork in the service of the nation.

Wilson Very Feeble

Mr. Wilson has exchanged letters with Mr. Harding and they seem to be getting closer together. Mr. Wilson is very anxious to do the courteous thing in every way on Friday and to be present throughout the ceremonies but it seems to be apparent that Mr. Wilson's political condition may not permit it. Mr. Harding thoroughly understands the situation and will not consider it a discourtesy if Mr. Wilson cannot be present when the oath of office is administered. The truth is that Mr. Wilson will be able to get to the senate chamber but it is doubtful whether he can stand the added walk from the senate chamber to the capitol steps, a distance of only a hundred feet but since it involves going down stairs, the fear is that Mr. Wilson will be unable to accompany Mr. Harding from the senate chamber to the inauguration stand. Mr. Wilson could be conveyed in a motor chair but he refuses to be transported that way and his intimates say he is particularly sensitive about being subjected to public scrutiny because of his enfeebled condition.

No Discourtesy Shown

As the Wilson administration draws to a close, it is gradually becoming known that many of the embarrassing delays and irritations which have resulted from Mr. Wilson's inability to see callers are largely the result of his ill-health and Republicans who are anxious to know the facts no longer suspect Mr. Wilson of avoiding or of the customary ceremonies held courtesy of a president-elect by his predecessor.

ALLIES ISSUE ULTIMATUM TO GERMANY

WOMAN TO BE APPOINTED TO POLICE FORCE

Council Provides for Employment of Policewoman to Replace One Man.

REORGANIZE PARK BOARD

Two Women and Three Men to Be Given Control of City's Park System.

Appleton women had their inning before the common council Wednesday night when publication was ordered of two ordinances providing for appointment of three women to important positions. One is the appointment of a policewoman or "protective officer" on the police force and the other provides for appointment of two women on the reorganized park board of five members. It is almost assured that both ordinances will be adopted after changes are made by the ordinance committee. The ordinance creating the position of policewoman undoubtedly will provide that the appointment shall be made to fill a vacancy in the police department. This will mean that the complete department will consist of 16 men and one woman instead of 17 men. Several of the aldermen, it is understood, believe the strength of the department should be maintained at 17 men and the woman should be employed as an additional officer. Chief George T. Pratt holds to the same view, declaring that it is impossible to adequately police the city with a smaller force.

Commission to Appoint

If the ordinance is passed the policewoman will be appointed by the police and fire commission and the qualifications of the officer are to be determined by the chief of police, municipal judge and a committee of three women. She probably will receive the same salary as paid to the men and will be under the jurisdiction of the chief of police and the police and fire commission. Agitation for appointment of a woman member of the department was started by representatives of the Appleton Women's club who prepared the ordinance which was submitted to the council. The matter was thoroughly discussed at a meeting of the police and fire commission Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. Lewis C. Soper and Mrs. J. S. Reeve presented their arguments. Several letters from officials of city employing policewomen were read.

The original ordinance providing for reorganization of the park board did not provide specifically for the appointment of women but it was recommended to the ordinance committee that it be changed to include that provision. The board, which is to be called the "board of park commissioners," is to consist of three men and two women to be appointed by the mayor with the approval of the common council. The first appointments will be for terms of one, two, three, four and five years and after the first year each appointment will be for a five year term so that one new member must be appointed annually.

Members of the commission are to serve without salary and are not permitted to spend any money without the express approval of the common council. Neither may they assume any indebtedness on the city unless the council puts on its stamp of approval. No money appropriated to the commissioners for use in maintaining the parks shall be spent until the council gives its consent.

One of the important provisions in the ordinance is that the commission will have control of the strip of lawn between the edge of the curb and the edge of the sidewalk on all streets and these are to be maintained by the commission.

The commission is to meet the first Tuesday of each month and is to hold its annual meeting the first Tuesday of May in each year when a president and secretary will be elected.

The present park board consists of three men. Agitation for reorganization of the board was started several weeks ago.

BURLESON IS SUED

CONGRESS PLANS GREAT TRIBUTE TO CHAMP CLARK

President Harding Expects to Attend Funeral Services Saturday Morning.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—A tribute such as usually is reserved for presidents who die in office, was planned Thursday for Champ Clark.

The body of the former speaker of the house who died Wednesday will lie in state in either the rotunda of the capitol or the house floor, probably the latter.

Funeral services will be held in the house chamber at 10:30 Saturday morning.

President Harding probably will be one of those who will attend the funeral if he can make arrangements to do so closely following his inauguration. Clark and Harding were friends.

After the funeral here the body will be taken on a special train to St. Louis, arriving there Sunday noon. It will lie in state until Sunday evening and then be taken to Bowling Green for burial in the midst of Clark's home scene.

All flags at the capitol will be at half mast because of Clark's death while Senator Harding is taking the oath Friday.

Despite the press of legislative matters the house will pause in its work for an hour Thursday night to eulogize the former democratic leader. His political friends for the last quarter of a century will speak, including "Uncle Joe" Cannon, Representative James R. Mann, Illinois, Representative Rucker, Missouri, and others.

Disarmament is Ford's Panacea

Harding Has Chance to "Repair Treaty Failure," Auto Maker Says.

(Copyright 1921 by the United Press)
Detroit, Mich.—By proposing universal disarmament, President Harding "can achieve at one stroke all that the clumsy peace treaty failed to achieve," Henry Ford declared Thursday in a specially prepared statement.

The statement follows: "President Harding can repair the failure of Versailles by keeping the faith which was violated at the peace conference. He can propose an act which includes all that was hoped for from the parliament of the nations. He can propose disarmament and because that is the only way by which he can escape the crushing burdens of war debts, war interest and war taxes, he can achieve at one stroke all that the clumsy peace treaty failed to achieve."

"President Harding has this advantage—that peace is no longer an ideal; it is an economic necessity. Disarmament is no longer the vision of the 'pacifist,' it is the only solution the financier can find. Armament is the big leak."

"Everything narrows down to this single point. There is no substitute. All the leagues and all the treaties cannot lift an ounce of the burden from the back of the world until this thing is done. And when this is done all other wise and desirable arrangements follow as a matter of course."

W. B. WILSON GETS JOB
SELECTED FOR TUMULTY

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—Secretary of Labor William B. Wilson Thursday accepted an appointment on the international joint commission. This is the appointment offered by President Wilson to his secretary, J. P. Tumulty who declined.

Republicans Move Into Capitol as Democrats Prepare to Leave.

CONGRESS TO END AT NOON

Harding Announces Appointment of J. J. Davis as Secretary of Labor.

BULLETIN
Washington.—Twenty-two hours before the present congress expires all of the regular appropriation bills except two, the naval and sundry civil measures had been passed and sent to the president.

The senate and the house Thursday sent the army bill to the president after agreeing that the average size of the army during the next fiscal year should be 156,666 exclusive of the Philippine scouts and the flying cadets.

The senate voted to appropriate $18,600,000 to extend hospital facilities for disabled soldiers. The bill originated in a resolution by Representative Good, Iowa, and represented an effort to save a sum for soldier aid for the sundry civil bill which appeared likely to fall in this session.

BULLETIN

Enroute with President-elect Harding to Washington—President-elect Harding Thursday completed his cabinet by naming James J. Davis of Pittsburgh and Indiana, as secretary of labor.

At the same time he named George B. Christian his private secretary. The announcement Thursday of J. J. Davis' appointment as secretary of labor closes the Harding cabinet.

George B. Christian whose appointment as Harding's secretary was announced Thursday, went to work as a sub reporter on Harding's newspaper thirty years ago. He was a democrat until a few years ago.

Washington.—The new Republican administration was moving into the national capitol Thursday.

President-elect and Mrs. Warren G. Harding arrived here.

Greeted at the station by a huge throng they stepped into a motorcar and were hurried to the new Willard hotel where they will remain until they leave for the capitol Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge met the Harding party at the station.

The weatherman promised clear and colder weather for Friday, despite a fine drizzle Thursday.

Secret service men Thursday made a last and thorough search of the capitol. Washington police in squads toured the city looking for known "characters" who have flocked here.

No one will be admitted to the capitol Friday without a card.

Congress has entered the last hours of its life.

Both houses will be in session all day, all night and until a few minutes before noon Friday. With hope of passing the sundry civil and naval appropriations bills virtually ended; efforts were to be directed towards a cleanup of other measures including the army bill.

Senator Poindexter moved Thursday that the naval bill be set aside after stating he recognized it had no chance of passing. The bill has been before the senate for the last four days.

Accompanying the president-elect on his special train were his father, Dr. George T. Harding, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Sawyer, George B. Christian, J. J. Harding's secretary, several members of the secretarial staff and a dozen or more newspaper correspondents.

Several hundred Marion residents left Marion Thursday on another special train and will arrive in Washington Friday.

The eve of the inauguration found the president-elect and Mrs. Harding both calm, at least outwardly.

There will be no attempt to act over the head of anybody," he said. "We propose to call in leaders of both houses and members of committees interested in particular measures, find out what is acceptable to them and try to reach some common ground. That I believe, is the best way to get things done."

Wilson Will Practice Law After March 4

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—President Wilson Thursday announced he will enter the practice of law with former Secretary of State Bainbridge Colby with offices in New York and Washington.

"The president made the announcement Thursday at the conclusion of his term of office, he would resume the practice of law, forming a partnership with the secretary of state, Bainbridge Colby. The firm will have offices in New York and Washington."

The only previous experience Wilson has had as a practicing lawyer was in Atlanta, Ga., where he practiced for two years prior to his entrance into the field of education.

Colby, before entering politics, was well known at the New York bar.

The firm of Wilson and Colby will specialize in the field of international law where both members have become experts during the last few years of dealing with intricate foreign relations of this country.

This form of practice would not force Wilson to appear in court.

President Wilson will make application to practice before the supreme court.

YAP QUARREL IS SCREEN FOR JAPAN

Wants to Prolong Controversy to Provide Trading Point With U. S.

New York.—Japan is employing her controversy with the United States over the island of Yap as a smoke screen behind which she can conduct her expansionist campaign in Asia, Professor Walter B. Pitkin, of Columbia University, declared Thursday.

While Japan does not want war with this country, she will not hesitate to begin hostilities should we attempt to interfere with the progress of her scheme of imperialism, according to Pitkin, who is regarded as an authority on Oriental affairs.

"For the next ten years the great European powers unquestionably will be concerned almost wholly with forcing Germany to meet her reparations payments," Pitkin said.

"In my opinion, Japan is deliberately prolonging the dispute regarding her mandate over Yap merely to provide a 'trading point' with the United States, just as she has so ardently insisted upon her alleged rights in California, and has sought to colonize Hawaii and the Philippines. She wants to be in a position to say, should a really critical situation arise through renewal of American pressure over her occupation of Siberia, 'Well, we have made or will make certain concessions regarding Yap, California, Hawaii and the Philippines. Now leave us alone.'"

RAIL OWNERS AGREE TO MEET UNSKILLED HELPERS

New York.—Eastern railway officials will confer with representatives of their "common and semi-skilled" labor next Tuesday on the question of wage "adjustments," it was learned Thursday.

Similar action will be taken by railway throughout the country, it was understood here.

While the employers claim that a movement is under way to force an average wage reduction of 25 per cent effective next month, the officials maintain that no schedule of reduction has been fixed and that in some cases wages will remain where they are or be increased slightly in order to equalize existing inequalities.

CAPITAL IS READY

Postmaster General Burleson led in all honors for inauguration scenery.

The front of the big gray postoffice building facing Pennsylvania avenue was covered with flags and one was flying from each of two flagpoles.

Harding will pass this display twice Friday.

"Cal" Coolidge is looking over the job. He has visited the senate twice. He's going again Thursday. The rest of the time he spends talking to friends and to Vice President Marshall.

Harding asked the inaugural ball stopped. "It was officially but there'll be three unofficially. One is being given by E. R. McLean; there'll be a charity affair at the Willard and Ohioans who feel it is no more than right that one of their number should be president, are celebrating too. It is reported Harding may drop in at all three informally."

Seated among the throng at the inaugural will be a little group of men, the only ones permitted to sit. Some of them will not see Harding as he takes his oath. They are blinded and crippled soldiers from hospitals.

Seizure Of Cities To Be Penalty For Failure To Accept

SHARP ATTACK ON HUTTON FAILS TO STOP LIQUOR BILL

Assembly Declines Reconsideration of Matheson Act by Close Vote.

By United Press Leased Wire
Madison.—The assembly Thursday refused reconsideration of the Matheson dry enforcement bill, 51 to 48. The bill now goes to the third reading and enactment.

Charges that Hutton was the real ruler of the assembly were made by members. Assemblyman L. H. Cook, Wausau, charged Hutton with running a third house and said if the members continued to permit it, the assemblymen might as well go home.

E. A. Burden, member from Niagara, charged Hutton with influencing appointments of prohibition enforcement agents.

"Hutton wanted me to support the Matheson bill and in turn he would help me get an appointment," Burden charged.

Frank H. Fowler, La Crosse, said he favored the Cook amendment but would oppose reconsideration because of assurances given him that the senate would include the amendment in the Matheson bill.

The assembly voted against the resolution calling for a constitutional convention, 59 to 46.

RAIL STRIKE GETS UNION CHIEFS' O. K.

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—Sixteen railroad union chiefs here Thursday wired their sanction to the rail strike that has been called by employees of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad. This is the first time since the organization of the United States railroad labor that a rail strike has been approved by union chiefs.

The calling of the strike follows action of Federal Judge Silbey, of Atlanta, in authorizing the receiver for the A. B. and A. to reduce wages immediately.

The question of reduction in wages on the A. B. and A. has been pending before the board for two months.

The action of rail unions in sanctioning the A. B. and A. strike, according to those close in touch with the railroad situation, means that they intend to fight to preserve the existing wage scales and have no intention of giving in to the roads.

WANTS ENGLAND TO MAKE HER NAVAL PLANS PUBLIC

By United Press Leased Wire
London.—Revelation of British naval plans and the government's attitude toward Japan and America is urged by Rear Admiral Adair.

Speaking before commons Adair stated the country cannot afford to go into competition with the United States in shipbuilding. He asserted Great Britain must make known what the English-speaking countries will do in case of war embroiling Japan, Britain and America. The admiral declared it would be necessary to extend naval bases at Halifax, Bermuda, Jamaica and in the Pacific if the building program were enlarged. He also asserted three new ones would have to be built at great expense at Esquimaut, New Guinea and Singapore.

Adair declared the dominions should pay for two-fifths of the program and that Australia would have to have a navy equal to Japan.

By United Press Leased Wire

Larry McKay, owner and driver, took the $700 second prize at 7:50 p. m., his elapsed time being five minutes slower than the Morgan team. The participants in the exciting finish are both local men.

ALLIES Will Occupy Enemy Territory at Once if Germany Objects.

GERMAN REPLY DENOUNCED

British Premier Declares Counter-Proposal is Mockery of Treaty.

By United Press Leased Wire
London.—The allies Thursday served an ultimatum on the German delegates, demanding acceptance of the reparations demands by Monday noon. It was authoritatively stated.

Lloyd George told the German delegates that the following penalties will be imposed:

Occupation of Duisburg, the Ruhr ports and Dueseldorf.

Levying of an equitable tax on all German exports to the allies.

Establishment of a customs line along the Rhine.

The British premier stated also that any modification that might be permitted by immediate acceptance of the proposals will be abandoned if the allies are compelled to use force.

Solemn Gathering
Members of the council, the experts and military attaches appeared solemn as they drove up to St. James palace through great crowds.

Premier Lloyd George's face lacked its customary smile and Premier Briand eyed the crowds somberly.

Only Marshal Foch was smiling as he acknowledged applause with military salutes.

The German delegates drove up amid a great silence. Dr. Von Simons was pale and apparently downcast. Some of his assistants were smiling as they swaggered through the great entrance.

It was the largest meeting of the council.

Premier Lloyd George announced the ultimatum to the German delegation headed by Foreign Minister Von Simons.

"Our entente will simply ask that Germany discharge her assumed responsibilities and repair the injuries she inflicted during the war," Lloyd George said.

"The allies deliberately refrained from requesting Germany to pay the allied war debts. They simply asked reparations for material damages and personal injuries to their people."

Terms Not Harsh
Lloyd George in his address to the Germans declared there was no intention of suppressing them. They must accept responsibility for the war, however, and interpret their obligations accordingly, he said.

"The German people are under the impression that the allied demands are intolerable and designed to enslave them. We regard them as free. We contend that a prosperous Germany is essential to civilization and regard a discontented and enslaved Germany as a menace and a burden to European civilization."

"The German delegation will examine the entente proposal and reply before Monday noon," Von Simons said in reply.

"However, the British premier mistakes Germany's intentions."

"I do not believe that any occasion will arise for carrying out the threatened penalties."

Lloyd George declared the German counter proposals were a mockery.

"Von Simons' statement was a definite challenge of the Versailles treaty," he said.

"The entente proposals were conciliatory. The German counter proposals were a mockery of the peace treaty."

"The allies have established finally Germany's responsibility for the war and will treat it as a thing already judged."

IDENTIFY "POOR BOOB"
MURDERED BY WANDERER

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—The "ragged stranger" whom police say was killed by Paul Wanderer last night when the latter killed his wife during a fake holdup, was identified Thursday as Joseph Ahrens, who has been missing from home two years.

Wanderer was sentenced to 25 years for killing his wife and is now on trial for the murder of Ahrens.

CALIFORNIA TOURIST
BUSINESS FALLS OFF

(Special to Post-Crescent)
San Francisco.—A slump in tourist business has hit California's tourist business one of the state's biggest sources of income.

Within the last three months tourist continental railroad traffic has dropped off practically 20 per cent according to officials of the leading railroads here.

CITY OFFICIALS TO RECEIVE SAME PAY AS IN 1920

Suggests Street Department
Remove Snow From Appleton Streets.

Salaries of city officials in 1921 will remain the same as in 1920, it was decided at the bi-weekly meeting of the common council in the city hall Wednesday evening. The following schedule was adopted:

Mayor, $1,500 per year; aldermen, $5 per meeting and 50 cents an hour for committee work; clerk, $2,100; treasurer, $2,100; attorney, $1,500; engineer and street commissioner $2,750; physician, $1,250; assistant health officer, $1,250; poor farm keeper, $1,200; weighmaster, $400; poor commissioner, $800; assessor, $2,100; reader of weights and measures, $35 per month.

There is a possibility that next winter Appleton residents will have at least part of the snow removed from their sidewalks at the expense of the city. The ordinance committee was instructed to consider a suggestion by Alderman A. W. Leabe that the street department use its teams and snow plows to remove snow from the sidewalks early each morning after a storm. The snow which remains on the sidewalks is to be shoveled off by the property owners. No charge is to be made for the preliminary work by the street department. It was suggested that streets with the heaviest early morning traffic be given first consideration.

Alderman Hanson's resolution for extending water main on Atlantic street from 150 feet west from Touk-st. was adopted. Permission was also made for water main and sewer on Madison st., and water mains on Jefferson and Erb-sts.

Unpaid personal property taxes are to be held by the city treasurer and not returned as delinquent, it was ordered. An ordinance granting permission to the Wisconsin and Northern Railroad Co. to cross certain Fifth and Third ward streets was ordered published. This ordinance relates to work that has been done and was introduced to legalize the transaction.

One of the problems confronting the council in opening an alley between Appleton and Superior st. in block 26, was solved when A. J. Hermann and C. F. Hermann sold their rights to alley property in the block for $1,250. Accounts amounting to $13,180.90 were ordered paid.

Alderman Leabe presided in the absence of Mayor J. A. Hawes.

Deaths

VERNA BROWN
Miss Verna Brown, 24, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Brown of Neenah, died at 5 o'clock Wednesday morning at her home. Her death was caused by injuries received in an auto accident seven months ago. Decedent is survived by her parents, two sisters, Mrs. Henry Young and Stella Brown, both of Neenah, two brothers, Harold and Russell.

The funeral will be held at 9 o'clock Friday morning from St. Patrick church in Neenah. The Rev. George Gilford will have charge of the services.

YOUNG FUNERAL
Among the Appleton people who attended the funeral of the late Miss Anna Young in Oshkosh Wednesday were Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Galpin, Gerald Galpin, Mrs. Eric S. Galpin, Mrs. Dorothy Keehl, Mrs. Agnes Arnold, Miss Blanche St. Andrews and Fred F. Wetzel. Decedent was a native of Appleton, but moved away from here a number of years ago with her parents.

LOAN ASSOCIATION WILL BE IN POSITION TO HELP

Erection of many new homes in Appleton this summer is becoming more and more of a probability, judging from the growing activities of the Appleton Building and Loan association. An average of ten new stockholders a week is being added. Almost a dozen families want new homes and have their applications for loans on file. With the number of shareholders growing, enough funds probably will be available to accommodate the applicants within the next few months. George H. Beckley, secretary, believes.

FARMERS CAN'T SELL HOGS AND CAN'T PAY TAXES

Farmers are having trouble in disposing of their hogs. One farmer who has 25 for sale was in Appleton early this week endeavoring to sell them to local meat markets, but found them stocked up for some time to come. The price was not mentioned. The farmer fattened them at this particular time in order to have money with which to pay his taxes. He still has his hogs and his taxes have not been paid.

REALTY TRANSFERS

Among the real estate transfers recorded at the office of register of deeds Wednesday were: Globe Realty Sales Co. to Grover C. Wigand, lot in Highland park, Appleton, consideration, private; Joseph A. Kromer to Joseph A. Schmidt, 2 lots in Third ward, consideration, private; John Roth to Henry F. Becknagel, etc., lot in city of Seymour, consideration, $4,500; Theresa Bestler to John Arps, lot in Fourth ward, consideration, private; First National bank of New London to Oscar Allen, lot in Reeder Smith's plat in New London, consideration, private; Mrs. Marie Kornely to A. H. Lucke, etc., land in Third ward, consideration, private.

All Oshkosh Thrilled By Lake Rescue

People who visited Oshkosh Wednesday found the city all excitement over the perilous situation in which several men and six teams of horses were placed. A large section of ice on Lake Winnebago on which the crews were working broke loose from shore and started out into the lake, carrying its victims with it.

All were rescued through quick work of a number of citizens. Half a dozen rowboats were put into service and all the men removed except the teamsters who stayed with their horses to prevent a stampede. Several methods were tried to rescue the horses, but none succeeded until a large raft was built on which they were brought safely to shore. It took about three hours to accomplish the rescue work, with the constant fear that wind and wave would break up the floe. One team of horses was precipitated into the water and was saved with difficulty.

MILD WEATHER IS HERALD OF SPRING

Warm Weather Activities Take
Spurt as Old Sol Hits Zenith.

About the only thing that did not designate Thursday as a spring day was the calendar, which says it falls on March 21. The morning dawned bright and sunny, and the atmosphere became warmer each hour as the sun rose higher.

Water was running in the streets from early morning, bidding a quick farewell to the recent snow and ice. The idea of spring's apparent arrival seemed to be spontaneous, for the stores began cleaning windows, scrubbing entries and cleaning sidewalks, and various other activities possible of accomplishment only in warm weather were in progress.

Sleighting disappeared so quickly in the country that some farmers starting for town in cutters had to abandon them along the way and borrow neighbor's buggy to complete the trip. Country roads, especially are muddy, but the lack of a large quantity of snow will mean quick drying.

"March came in like a lamb," said some of the old conservatives along the streets, "and she'll go out like a lion." Most optimists were willing to throw this superstition aside and take it for granted that Mother Nature would keep up the pace set during the mildest winter in years.

KAUKAUNA ENTERTAINS EASTERN STAR DELEGATES

The annual district convention of the Order of Eastern Star will be held in Kaukauna Wednesday, March 9. A large delegation of Appleton members is expected to attend the convention. The district comprises Kaukauna, Appleton, Neenah, Menasha and Waupaca, and all of them will send members to the convention. Among the grand officers of the state who will be present are: Martha B. Clark, grand matron; Mary Grimshaw, grand lecturer; Lulu Hackbert of Appleton, grand warden; J. B. Delbridge of Kaukauna, is grand patron of the state.

The business session will begin at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. All the degrees will be exemplified. Supper will be served at two restaurants. Reservations for supper must be made before March 6, with Mrs. Pauline Schloemer. Business will be taken up again at 7:30 in Elk hall. A musical program has been arranged.

INCOME TAX EXPERT TO HELP LOCAL MEN

Archibald Harris and company, Chicago, tax experts and counselors for the Appleton Chamber of Commerce, intend to send a representative here for one day before March 15 to confer with members who wish advice on income tax problems, according to a letter received by Secretary Hugh G. Corbett. They suggest March 10 as a possible date, and Mr. Corbett has replied stating this date is satisfactory.

Definite word is expected in a few days confirming this date or announcing some other.

Jack Francis of Janesville, visited friends here Wednesday.

SAYS DEATH IS UNREAL

Proves That the Dead Still Live
Remarkable evidence that there is no death, there are no dead, is offered by Lloyd Kenyon Jones, Room 1902, 531 S. Clark-st., Chicago, in his book entitled "God's World," in which he shows how through God's own law, the spirits of those who have passed through the portals of Death can and do communicate with those on earth. One should be cheered by the thought that loved ones have not been transmuted into cold, unemotional individuals by death, for God's door is always open between each life and eternal life, where we all will be united forever. In his illustrated booklet "Communication," he presents his view of life, here and beyond the grave, which will enable you to understand "God's World" and show you how to obtain happiness and a fuller understanding of life here and in the hereafter. Simply send your name to the author at the above address and the book will be sent to you free of all charges.

DEFER ACTION ON PROVIDING MONEY FOR COUNTY FAIRS

County Board Hears Reports of Committees at Morning Session.

Among the committees that reported at Thursday morning's session of the county board were those of the county grounds, printing, insurance, and poor. The report of the auditors, who recently audited the books of each of the county officers, was adopted.

The district attorney was given power to hire an assistant. The county, state road and bridge committee was granted the privilege of purchasing and disposing of county machinery. A resolution of the county, state road and bridge committee in regard to transferring of funds appropriated for different roads was laid on the table by a vote of 18 to 17 after a lengthy and somewhat spirited discussion.

Action on a resolution providing for appropriations of $2,500 each for Seymour and Hortonville fairs and $300 for the Fox River Poultry and Pet Stock association was deferred until Friday.

The matter of purchasing a tract of land adjoining Outaouic county training school at Kaukauna from John Lawe for a consideration of $3,000 was held open until tomorrow. The committee recommended the purchase, but it met with opposition from several members.

AUCTION PRICES ARE AS HIGH AS ON THE MARKET

Surprisingly high prices were bid for stock, grain and machinery at an auction at the Hugo Schueller farm, town of Osborn, Wednesday. Cows sold at prices ranging from $70 to $100. It was said that part of the machinery and grains brought higher prices than are asked on the market today.

BABY BORN ON PEACE DAY

After Mother Had Been Restored to Health by

Vegetable Compound

Salisbury, Mass. — "For seven years I had a female trouble and such bearing-down pains I could hardly do my housework. The doctor said, 'If you can have another baby it might be the best thing for you but I am afraid you cannot.' I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and my baby was born on 'Peace Day.' If women would only take your Vegetable Compound they would have better health. I always recommend it." — Mrs. TRACY PATTEN, 2 Lincoln Ave., Salisbury, Mass.

The experience of maternity should not be approached without careful physical preparation, as it is impossible for a weak, sickly wife to bring healthy children into the world. Therefore if a woman is suffering from a displacement, backache, inflammation, ulceration, bearing-down pains, headaches, nervousness or "the blues" she should profit by Mrs. Patten's experience, take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and be restored to health.

BEGIN WORK ON ARTISTS' PROGRAM

Community Artist and Lecture Series Committee Pleased With Support.

A meeting of the board of directors of the Community Artist and Lecture series was held Wednesday evening at the Y. M. C. A. Judson G. Rosebush, chairman of the board, presided. A list of attractions for next year's lecture course was given to the program committee and efforts will be made to engage the attractions.

A ticket committee consisting of A. R. Eads, chairman, Lee S. Hasey and H. B. Frame was appointed for the coming year. After a discussion it was decided to continue the course with 10 numbers. The series is given with the idea of serving the public and the members of the board felt they could not do that if some of the numbers were cut out of the program. They were well satisfied at the support which had been given them by the people of Appleton and nearby cities. With one or two exceptions every number has been well attended. The men feel that the strongest and best numbers of the series are yet to come. The New York Chamber Music society which appears Friday evening is perhaps as good as any number which has yet been given. Reports from other parts of the country recommend the company very highly.

Plan Camping Trip
The regular meeting of the Junior Hi-Y club was held Wednesday night at the Y. M. C. A. A discussion of "Living" was led by Allan Winkler. # Fire Insurance Rates Here Will Be Reduced

Chief McGillan of Fire Department Notifies Police and Fire Commission of New Classification—Hear Appeal for Policewoman.

Fire insurance rates on all buildings except residences and sprinkler risks will be materially reduced as a result of a new insurance classification granted by the Wisconsin Insurance Commission. It was announced by Chief George P. McGillan of the fire department at the meeting of the police and fire commission in the city hall Wednesday afternoon. Appleton is now in 3-1-2 class, a gain of half a class from the previous rating which had been effective only a few months. Before then Appleton was in 3-1-3 class. The new rates apply only to new business or renewal of insurance on mercantile buildings, factories without sprinklers, schools, churches and all buildings except residences. The reductions will apply to building and contents.

The new rating was made possible through the efforts of Chief McGillan. He had been agitating a better classification for the city for some time. It secured very low rates for residential property two or three years ago. Since then he has been working for a new classification for other risks. About two or three months ago the city was placed in No. 3 class following urgent requests from the chief and he immediately worked for even a better rating. Engineers were sent here to make a survey and Tuesday he received word the new classification had been granted and new rates are effective.

Chief McGillan's promotion of Jacob Kromer to the rank of lieutenant in the fire department was approved by the commission. He also announced the appointment of Fred Holtz and Archie Peterson as members of the department. Twenty-one men, including the chief, are now on the rolls.

Considerable time was devoted to listening to the appeal of representatives of Appleton's Women's Club for "protective officer." The petition and arguments backing it up were offered by Mrs. Lewis C. Sleeper and Mrs. J. S. Reeve. They read several letters from officials of cities employing policewomen, all of whom spoke highly of the officer and her work.

Mrs. Sleeper said the policewoman would be expected to prevent women and minors from falling into evil ways more than to make arrests of those who have fallen, although that is part of her work. Letters from other cities indicate that policewomen are devoting much of their time to welfare work, visits with parents of wayward children, protection of strange girls and combating the "mashing" nuisance.

Several instances where a policewoman might have been of great assistance in Appleton were cited by Mrs. Reeve. The women emphasized that the title "protective officer" would more nearly describe the duties of a woman member of the police department than "policewoman" does.

Other members of the delegation which waited on the commission were Mrs. James A. Wood, Mrs. John Morgan and Mrs. G. M. Schumacher.

"L" MEN ORGANIZE TO PUT LAWRENCE IN ATHLETIC SUN

Permanent Organization of Athletic Stars Has Been Effected.

Permanent organization of the "L" club of Lawrence college was effected Wednesday night at a meeting of Lawrence athletes to whom letters have been awarded for athletic prowess. Donald Ewer, Lancaster, was elected president. Other officers are Walter Huntington, Racine, vice president; Leigh Hooley, Milwaukee, secretary; Coach H. D. McChesney, treasurer. Every Lawrence man to whom an "L" has been awarded is eligible for membership.

Committees were appointed to take charge of the work started by the temporary organization. The association's work resolves itself into four important phases, all having to do with development of Lawrence as an athletic and educational center.

Special efforts will be made by "L" men to interest high school athletes in the local institution. They will induce young men who show promise of developing into athletic stars to come to Appleton, look over the school and its prospects to select the local institution for continuing their education. Efforts will be made to find work for those men who are financially unable to attend college. Lawrence graduates are to be asked to renew their interest in the college and to show their interest by subscribing to a fund to be used for inducing young men to attend Lawrence.

The purpose of the club is to build up Lawrence and to give it a nationwide reputation. This can be done largely through proficiency in athletics. Agitation for a new gymnasium and athletic field, sorely needed by the college, probably will be one of the new club's activities.

operation beyond the government operation of the roads. This is very important because the use of the term "national agreement" misleads the public into thinking that when the railroads decline to recognize its future binding character and seek to have the board declare it at an end, the railroads are violating a contract which they have made and are thus guilty of a breach of faith. Nor is the national agreement of 1920 in force until the labor board itself abrogates it. The transportation act of 1920 continued the existing rates of wages until September 1 of that year, but did not mention, still less did it continue in contractual form, the existing working conditions.

PROF. SHAW TAKES NEW SUBJECT FOR TALK HERE

Despite the small attendance in Lawrence Memorial chapel Wednesday evening, Prof. Elton R. Shaw, "philosopher," gave a most interesting address on "Fools, Wise Men and the Rest of Us." His talk was humorous but had a serious vein running through it.

Mr. Shaw is to speak again at 8 o'clock Thursday night on "Eating, Earning, Loving, Learning," one of his most popular lectures. He originally was scheduled to talk on "World Civic and Moral Problems" but decided to change his subject Thursday morning. Mr. Shaw is a splendid talker and has had much experience on the lecture platform.

Miss Helen Sherman, who is attending the University of Wisconsin, Madison, is expected home Thursday evening to spend the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Sherman.

Run Down?

Kidney and bladder troubles are not limited to men. Housework, or work in office or factory, causes women to suffer from weak, overworked or diseased kidneys. The symptoms are: puffiness under the eyes, slow skin, constant tired feeling, lack of ambition, nervous condition, backache, rheumatic pains, sore muscles, stiff joints.

Foley Kidney Pills get right at the cause of suffering and misery, regulate the kidneys and bladder and restore the diseased organs to sound and healthy condition.

Mrs. Wm. Fischer, 200 Woodbourne Ave., Louisville, Ky., writes: "I am not getting along. I am taking Foley Kidney Pills every other night. You should have seen me before I started. I was yellow as gold, now my eyes and skin are all cleared up. My kidneys do not bother me at night any more. It will help some other poor soul who is suffering. You may use my name whenever your medicine is advertised."

Poisoned by Thousands

(By L. W. Bower, M. D.)

Backache of any kind is often caused by kidney disorder. Poisonous matter and uric acid accumulate within the body in excess, overworking the sick kidneys, hence the congestion of blood causes backache in the same manner as a similar congestion in the head causes headache. You become nervous, despondent, sick, feverish, irritable, have spots appearing before the eyes, and lack ambition to do things.

Simply ask your druggist for "Anuric" (anti-uric acid) Tablets if you aren't feeling up to the standard. If you have lumbago, rheumatism, dropsy, begin the treatment immediately. The physicians and specialists at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., have thoroughly tested Anuric and you can send 10c there for trial package.

INVITE COUNCIL TO BRIDGE DISCUSSION

Thorough discussion of Appleton's bridge problem was sought by a committee from the chamber of commerce when it extended an invitation to the common council and other city officials to meet for an informal dinner in the French room of the Sherman house at 6:16 Wednesday evening, March 2. The invitation was extended to the council at Wednesday night's meeting by G. E. Buchanan, chairman of the special committee.

Mr. Buchanan, in a brief address to the council, reminded it of the complexity of the bridge problem and suggested that possibly a solution can be found in a conference of city officials with the committee which has made a study of the city's needs. This conference is not to be an effort at dictation on the part of the chamber but merely a friendly discussion, Mr. Buchanan said.

KIDNEYS AILING? Watch the Symptoms

Don't take any chances with your kidneys. If you have the faintest suspicion that your kidneys are weak or your bladder is irritated the wisest thing you can do is to get a bottle of Dr. Carey's Marshmallow at once.

Watch the symptoms carefully. The earliest signals often indicate that the kidneys are ailing and need attention. Dry skin for instance and little specks floating before the eyes. Sometimes the feet feel heavy, as if your shoes were full of lead. Often the joints ache or you have quick, darting pains shooting through the back or side. Then again that frequent desire to empty the bladder, cold, clammy feet and just a little puffiness under the eyes. Occasionally the hands or feet swell slightly and the palms of the hands are moist. Don't neglect them; you cannot afford to take any chances with your kidneys.

IMPORTANT—Dr. Daniel G. Carey, the well known kidney and bladder specialist of Elmira, N. Y., who returned recently, declared that this great prescription, No. 777, "Marshmallow," had helped thousands of sufferers from kidney and bladder troubles. It is not a patent medicine and is only sold through drug stores to accommodate his patients. Hereafter you can always get this effective prescription at Schintz Bros. Co. and all reliable pharmacists the country over. Keep in mind the name, Dr. Carey's Marshmallow prescription No. 777. No other medicine can take its place. adv.

URGE U. S. TO PROVIDE DEEPER RIVER CHANNEL

Development of a deeper channel in the Fox river between Green Bay and DePere may result from a conference with United States engineers in Washington and F. W. Luening, secretary of the Green Bay Association of Commerce, and H. G. Wells, DePere.

These men presented much information which was previously unknown to the engineers. They appeared to be favorably impressed with the need of a channel, and a report on their findings is expected in about 10 days. A comprehensive brief on the subject was filed with the engineers.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl G. Reed of Denver, Colo., are visiting friends here.

J. M. Critton of Madison, was a business visitor here Wednesday.

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Every druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if two bottles of Allenhu, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not stop all agony, reduce swollen joints and away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenhu has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitious and where the patient was helpless. Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenhu, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenhu decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed Schintz Bros. of the blood. There are more of such men and women today than at any other period in the last thirty years.

There has come into prominence a prescription used by a leading Ohio physician that is certainly one of the most timely events in recent years. It is called Reolo, and it fits these nervous, bloodless cases exactly. In one of the prominent drug stores it has completely superseded all other preparations variously called tonics. The clerks see its marvelous benefits daily. Men and women who have come in sick, unhappy, discouraged and defeated, and again seen in a week or a month after using Reolo are not the same people either in appearance or action. They have gained flesh and strength, real conscious strength; their blood is rich and red, they walk and talk with animation, there is a tinge of color in the cheeks, a snap to the eye that shows the vital processes have been enhanced to their full, natural activity. Ask any clerk at Schintz Bros. Drug Store or any leading drug store about Reolo. They will recommend it as the greatest constructive medicine that ever went over their counters. ## BLAINE'S EXCELLENT MESSAGE

The message of Gov. Blaine to the legislature on the subject of state finances is timely and is an ably considered document. There will be honest difference of opinion about the method of increasing revenue or of altering the scheme of taxation to produce the revenue we now have. Mr. Blaine favors additional surtaxes rather than any increase in property taxation. Indeed he is inclined to lighten the latter. A program of this kind would of course fall chiefly upon manufacturing and business, which already are heavily loaded down with income taxation in the midst of adverse conditions and an uncertain future. Before the legislature undertakes to carry out such a policy it should endeavor to honestly ascertain what the effects would be upon business and whether business could carry the burden; it should give the commercial and industrial interests full opportunity to be heard. We may all agree with the governor that further sources of revenue must be supplied, and we are sure that all fair-minded men in Wisconsin are willing to meet the situation in the measure of their ability. It is simply a question of method, with due regard to our productive sources.

But the really important portion of Gov. Blaine's excellent message is that which deals with the present extravagances of state government and the necessity of imposing rigid economy. According to the governor certain departments have been exceeding appropriations without authority and excessive deficits have been created without the least concern as to where the money was to come from to take care of them. Not only is the state $3,000,000 behind today, but it faces a prospective deficit of $16,000,000 in the next two years based on estimated expenditures and estimated receipts. Clearly this is a financial dilemma which must be taken in hand and given business treatment.

Gov. Blaine believes that large sums can be saved to the taxpayers by the elimination of boards and commissions which, he says, have increased thirty per cent in the last few years. The people and the legislature should listen to the governor's advice in this matter, for he is standing on firm ground and is advocating a reform which is of real value to the taxpayers. A great object lesson in the economies afforded through abolition of useless boards and commissions is furnished by the administration of Gov. Lowden in Illinois. Mr. Lowden earned his high reputation as an executive chiefly through the sound business government he has given Illinois and the extensive economies, with increased efficiency, he has brought about in state government. That was his recommendation to the cabinet of Mr. Harding. Gov. Lowden in four years reduced the number of boards and commissions in Illinois from 125 to ten, and despite the high cost of everything else the cost of governing Illinois was actually decreased. In the same period the cost of government in Wisconsin increased heavily; in California it doubled. California today is waging a fight to get rid of useless boards and commissions and estimates that it will save $17,000,000, now asked for by the governor in extra taxation, if they can be eliminated. As Gov. Lowden has said, nothing so nearly approaches immortality as a public office once created, but he proceeded on the theory that it would raise no more of a disturbance to operate on all the useless boards than to put the knife to one or two and that is what he did.

Gov. Blaine presents the same issue to the people of Wisconsin. If he can put this program through it will save the taxpayers millions of dollars. It is a courageous stand for the governor to take and the people should get back of him. He will need their support because powerful political forces will oppose him.

THE EXIT OF PRESIDENT WILSON

Tomorrow brings to a close the eight-year administration of President Wilson. The country has had eight years of liberalizing as well as liberal government, and the results of the election indicate that it was an overdose; at any rate the change to conservatism is welcomed with relief and expectancy.

Mr. Wilson served through eight years of the world's greatest history. It was also an epoch period in our own history. Up to the time of the passage of the Underwood act the tariff had, since the Civil war, been written by its beneficiaries. It had come to be recognized as an issue between the "plain people" and the "interests." The Payne-Aldrich law was the culmination of what had grown to be an indefensible policy. Its overthrow was the first great step toward divorcing invidious business influence from government.

The second great step toward rescuing the government from iniquitous business influence was the creation of the Federal Reserve bank, the only sound financial system ever devised for the nation and which marked the end of Wall street control over the United States treasury. The act was bitterly opposed by banking as well as capitalistic and speculative interests, but this criticism was turned to praise when it carried the credit structure through the hitherto unparalleled strain of the war without a ripple and its intrinsic value to the country was realized. This act alone will forever stand as a monument to the Wilson administration.

Whatever may be the present judgment of Mr. Wilson's labor policy it will find vindication in the year's to come. It was an enlightened policy in all its essential aspects and no president has done more than he for the advancement of the labor cause. Labor has thrown away temporarily much of the benefits Mr. Wilson fought and won for it by its own unreasonableness, but he was the true friend of the workingman and laid the foundations for his progress. Industry which has been imposed upon by the folly of labor in abusing the president's assistance and sympathies now looks upon the whole record as one of chaotic radicalism, but the time will come and not far distant when the gains sought by Mr. Wilson for labor will be attained and his purposes and policies will be understood for what they really were. What now appears to be extreme in the concessions he actually made or favored, will one day appear moderate and will find recognition by the employer as well as the public.

Likewise the president's conduct of the war is a tender and controversial point, but here again time will set him right. The acerbity of political criticism will soften with years and the achievements actually accomplished will obscure the unimportant questions of consistency, cabinet efficiency, theoretical policy and so on. Mr. Wilson was both a pacifist and militarist; both neutral and pro-American, never pro-German as charged, and always humanitarian. During the stormy days of 1915 and 1916 when the bitterness of politics prevented a clear vision, the president's diplomacy, much as it was denounced and misunderstood, prepared a perfect case against Germany and unified the nation for the tremendous sacrifice that war demands and that should be paid only as a last resort. His state papers leading up to and throughout the war will rank with the greatest of all time, and there will be countless General Dawses in the next generation who will see with his clear eyes the greatness and the glory of American participation in the war and of American victory. Long after the politics of the day has vanished and the politicians have passed to obscurity who can doubt the place that Woodrow Wilson will occupy?

It is a weakness of the American political system to detract its great leaders. Mr. Wilson may be an egoist, as asserted by his enemies; he may have been a usurper and a despot, as charged by others; he may be an idealist, but so long as he was in the White house the country knew who was president, and it is well for America that it did. Just as Lincoln had to follow his own judgment in all crucial decisions and policies, so did Wilson, for neither congress nor any cabinet he might have created would have met the tests with the same courage, restraint and discernment. The president upset many precedents, but so had others who preceded him.

In the great questions of peace politics and jealousy have done their utmost to discredit and destroy him. Honest differences of opinion remain to settle the problem. In the language of one who not long ago paid him this sympathetic tribute, it was President Wilson "who first focused the heterogeneous and often diverse aims of the war on the one ideal of pure Americanism, which is democracy." Woodrow Wilson is a liberal, a democrat, a humanitarian and an American in whose sterling character, lofty ideals, achievements and leadership the country will one day take a just pride. It is a pitiful fact that he leaves the White house broken in health with so little appreciation by a people who owe him much for his service to them and to mankind.

FORNIST THE BRAMBLE BUSH

"Mother, may I go out to swim?"
"O, yes, my darling daughter."
Hang your clothes on the bramble bush—But don't go near the water."
"Dear Doctor: I have been a close follower of your column and one of your star 'converts'—so much so that I did not buy any rubbers at the beginning of this winter season and have otherwise become reckless about 'exposure,' all on the strength of your insistence that one cannot 'catch cold' from draughts, wet feet, etc. And despite objections from the wife I began to open bedroom windows nights, thus adding fresh air to my other faults, and had almost converted F. W. to your ways of thinking, when, all of a sudden, your friend Dr. Currier and tells us to stay away from draughts. What's the big idea? Why can't doctors agree? Friend Wife now insists on closed windows, rubbers, and everything. It seems too bad. I might add that I have ventured into many a draught since you converted me and nothing serious has happened to me. I suppose I was just lucky.

Yours truly,
E. M. L."

Clipping enclosed. This is the clipping:
"Question: Is it healthy to leave windows open in one's sleeping room at night? I am in the habit of doing this, but am told it is dangerous to health. (Boy.)

"Answer: Some are quite sensitive to cold—type blurred and unreadable—temperature of the sleeping room too low, especially if one is delicate and predisposed to disease. It is always important to avoid draughts, but nothing I (Dr. Currier) have said means that you should do anything to cut off the supply of fresh air, day or night. It is absolutely essential, whether you get it by open windows or any other way."

Ho, hum. It seems this way, boy: You'll be sorry if you open your bedroom windows nights and you'll be sorry if you don't. You may cudgel your brains and take your choice.

We are all agreed, we doctors, that fresh air is a good thing, but we do differ some as to the proper way to push it along.
I don't believe anybody can be more fond of health and comfort than I am. I get my feet wet, or sit in a draught, or endure change of weather (the weather has such a mean way of changing here on earth) without a worry, so long as I can manage to keep fairly comfortable. In fact, I am grateful to the weather man for every change of weather, be it from warm to cold or from cold to warm, from dry to wet or wet to dry, for I know that just such changes are the natural stimulus which makes our country the home of the most vigorous people on earth. Peoples living where the weather and seasons are not very changeable never amount to a great deal."

I thank E. M. L. for referring to my "insistence" that one doesn't catch "cold" from draughts, wet feet or exposure. So many readers call that my "theory." It is no theory, but a fact established by long personal observation and experience. The theory in this question is that one can acquire some respiratory ailment as a result of draughts, wet feet or exposure—and nobody has yet succeeded in adducing actual evidence or experimental proof to support that theory. It is an exploded theory; else all modern propaganda against the spread of respiratory infections is utter rot. In this debate on "catching cold" we may accent the catching or we may accent the cold, but we cannot logically or reasonably accent both.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Kids, Cats, Germs

What do you think of a family where there are several children, keeping several cats in the house? The children fondle and play with the kittens. Is this not dangerous? (G. F. L.)

ANSWER.—No. Kittens can stand it all right. It is when the kids become cats and go out culling that they become potential germ-carriers. By that time the folks will probably have wearied of keeping the cats, and the kids will have become old enough to become chicken fanciers.

January and April

A boy aged nine sleeps with his grandfather, who is 70 and feeble. The grandfather is an inveterate smoker and smokes much through the night for the relief of asthma. (1) Does it reduce the boy's vitality to sleep with the old man? (2) Is the air laden with tobacco smoke injurious to the boy's health? (—N.)

ANSWER.—(1) Only in the extent that the boy's rest is disturbed by the invalid. (2) The foul air unquestionably injures the boy's health.

It would be better for both if they occupied not only separate beds but separate rooms.

New Fabrics

By Frederic J. Haskin

New York City—All of us will soon be wearing garments made from seaweed and grass. If the vegetable fabrics recently produced by German textile manufacturers become popular in this country.

The Germans have achieved some remarkable results in the textile line by proceeding upon the assumption that textile products, from dandelion to a pumpkin, can be turned into clothing if necessity demands it. During the war, the German supplies of wool and cotton became exhausted; they were unable to smuggle their new supplies through the blockade, so there was nothing left for German chemists to do but to produce something new in the way of fabrics.

An exhibit of these novelties, ground out under the exigencies of war, was recently held by the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce here, and was widely attended by American textile manufacturers. It included samples of overcoatings, table cloths, paper, sport jackets, sweaters, underwear, stockings and socks, worsted and many other men's and women's garments—all made from various vegetable products heretofore scorned as being of little value. Nettles, hops, willow bark, pine needles, cornstalks, and asparagus are merely a few of the things represented in the materials.

Instead of being brittle and fragile and impractical for windy weather, as might be supposed, the new vegetable fabrics are soft and serviceable, and guaranteed to withstand the toughest gale. The German underwear, made from China grass, is said to be better than that made of pure wool or wool and cotton, as it prevents the garments from shrinking. It is also declared by textile experts to be of better wearing quality.

A large variety of clothing sources is something absolutely new in the history of our civilization. It is revolutionary—for ever since men decided that they looked better in clothes they have been making them from the same old products, which are wool, silk, cotton and flax. Archaeological records show that the arts of spinning and weaving were in a late stage of development as far back as 2600 B. C., which is as far back as the matter can be traced, and that these four fabrics were well known then.

The Four Sources.
In other words, all that we wear—our frocks and frock-coats, our neckties and stocks and laces and frills and furbelows—comes from only these four sources, that were discovered far back when the race was young.

Our wool supply is obtained chiefly from the pelage of sheep, while a small quantity is also obtained from the hair of certain goats (cashmere and mohair, for example) as well as from the hair of camels. The earliest cloth-makers tapped the same sources for their wool.

All of our raw silk is provided for us by obliging caterpillars, which secrete the substance in their glands and spin it into cocoons or cases in which they make their change from worm to moth. And the Mongolians had the silk worms well trained for this purpose centuries ago.

Cotton, obtained from the seed pod of the cotton plant, was also well understood by the ancients, while early history records the use of rich linens made from flax.

In recent years, but two other sources have been added to these four American manufacturers have succeeded in producing rough textiles, such as burlap, from the jute plant, and American chemists, after much experimentation, have been able to produce artificial silk.

Then the Germans began their experiments with various plants. These commenced really some years before the war, and the first successful vegetable fabrics were brought to this country as early as 1914. But it was the war, which for the time being eliminated the four textile staples from the market, that gave them their chance.

According to a statement of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, the new vegetable fiber industry was "established at Fuerstenberg, Germany, in 1912. During the first year in which the plant was operated it confined its activities merely to the manufacture and sale of fibers—the raw product.

"In 1913 spinning machinery was set up, and since then the spinning of yarn from these fibers has been carried on on an ever-increasing scale. In the eight years of its existence the products of this concern have covered a wide range of vegetable fibers, including China grass, Australian seaweed, jute, old jute rags and shoddy worsted yarn. A number of others were worked up during the war and extensively used in the textile industry. Some of these fibers were abandoned after the war, owing to the fact that the supply in Germany was not sufficient to warrant their permanent use.

Cloth From Grass

"The vegetable fiber derived from China grass is known as solidonia. It is similar to ramie, which is known and used in the United States. The German fiber company, by means of a special process, produces a long, fine, soft and curly fiber. It looks very much like wool and mixes readily with that product, thus opening a wide field for its use in the woolen industry. Solidonia gained a wide use on account of shortage of wool during the war. As a substitute for linen, solidonia has been used in Germany for the manufacture of table linen of beauty and strength. It has also been used for machine belting. Hosiery mills and underwear mills have produced from it stockings which are difficult to tear; unshrinkable underwear and sporting jackets of fine quality and strength.

"The German woolen mills have also manufactured an army cloth which, composed of 75 per cent wool and 25 per cent solidonia, surpasses, it is asserted, in tensile strength any pure wool cloth. Women's clothing and men's clothing of half solidonia and half wool or shoddy cloth is likewise proving highly successful.

"Another fiber from which has been obtained splendid results," the bureau's report continues, "is the fiber known as posidonia—also a vegetable product. It is derived from seaweed dredged in Australia and washed in sweet water. Brought to Germany, the fiber is subjected to a chemical treatment to soften it and make it resilient, the original fiber being stiff and harsh.

"The staple of this fiber is declared to be equal to a medium staple wool, and it is spun on the worsted and woolen system. The fiber is characterized by an elasticity and springiness, and the cloth, which is made of pure posidonia, appears to show scarcely any creases. Posidonia is expected to fill a particularly large demand in the carpet industry.

"The chief way in which jute is employed in the United States is in the form of cheap lining and burlap. This German company has accomplished some unusual results with jute. By a special process of chemical treatment, a long fiber has been produced, which can be spun into a pure fabric or mixed with wool. From the old jute rags the company also makes a good grade of shoddy cloth, which is being used with some amazing results in women's costumes, overcoats, and sports jackets that many experienced textile men have been unable to tell it from all-wool cloth."

The exhibit of the bureau was planned chiefly for the benefit of American textile makers, who have been much interested in the German products. If German chemists can produce materials from grass and seaweed and nettles, there is every reason to believe that American chemists can also, and thus, in time, perhaps even that helpful plant, the true ragweed, may be converted into a neat and useful fabric.

You can't unscramble an egg

After a perfectly good piece of woolen cloth has been made up in a sweat shop by inefficient tailors—using cotton thread and poor trimmings—no amount of price attraction can ever restore the right to call the finished product a good suit.

Did you know that this is what is being done—that the market is full of poor clothes—made of originally good materials?

Workmanship is the life's blood of a suit of clothes. Careful tailoring, substantial lining, dependable trimmings are the three gears forward in every garment—and when you eliminate them—your best piece of $8 a yard worsted is at a standstill.

We are instructing our friends—whenever they buy—here or elsewhere—to insist on clothing of known repute.

Adventures of the Twins

Olive Roberts Barton

"The White Poodle"
Nancy and Nick had arrived at the Cave of Gems under the Sleeping Pool. At last they were in the secret passage the Star had told them about. And if things went well they would soon be at the South Pole.
A voice was speaking to them. An invisible voice! "Yes, you are good-looking youngsters! And I'm glad of that. I never read my poetry to anyone that is not good-looking. Would you like to hear some?"
"Oh, yes!" exclaimed the twins quickly.
So the voice began:
"I am Pierre de Pierrot de Bong Tong. I shall tell you my tale in a song. I am soft, I am silky,
In color I'm milky,
And I'm known from Bombay to Hongkong.
"I can do most unusual things,
And my praises most everyone sings.
I'm extremely adroit,
And my tricks I exploit,
In the glory of great circus rings.
"I can jump through a great paper hoop.
I'm a wonder at looping the loop.
I can beg, I can pray,
I can wish you good-day,
I can walk on my hands with a whoop.
"If you tell me just where you would go,
I'm most likely to be sure to know
The road you must take,
And you'll make no mistake,
If you follow the way I shall show.
"There's another verse. Would you like to hear it?"
"Yes, nodded Nancy. "Very much indeed, but won't you appear first?"
"Bliss me, can't you see me?" answered the voice. "That's right, I forgot. I get invisible every other day. But wait! It's nearly 12. There, it is striking now!"
And at the sixth stroke there glowed appeared a white French poodle, only "Pierre de Pierrot," as he said his name was, was quite as large as an ox.

Tomorrow's Food

Many housekeepers hesitate to buy bacon "by the strip" on account of the difficulty of cutting it in thin slices for cooking. If the knife used for slicing is very sharp and heated as hot as possible, home sliced bacon may be as thin as the most expensive bacon on the market. It is such a convenience to have bacon in the house aside from the economy of buying it in the piece that the simple expedient of the hot knife is well worth while.
Menu for Tomorrow.

An attractive way to serve oranges is to separate them into sections and make a circle by lapping each section over the other on a little glass fruit plate. ## BREEDERS FEEL LOSS OF FAMOUS HERD SIRE

Holstein breeders see black these days instead of black and white. They are virtually in mourning over the death of Iowanna Sir Ollie, most noted Holstein herd sire in the country. Every breeder in the middle west and especially in Wisconsin has heard of his record and will feel that the passing of Sir Ollie is a great loss to the breed.
Sir Ollie was considered a wonderful animal. He was unbeatable in the show ring of 1919. Traveling to all important fairs he carried all before him and emerged from the national dairy show with the highest honors possible in American cattledom.
Dickinson Brothers, Lake Geneva, were the owners of the famous Sir Ollie.

Confessions Of A Bride

(Copyright 1920)

We Start Out to Meet Ted and Run Into a Heavy Storm.

The Valley Parsonage where Deb was to meet Ted Moore was next to the famous Valley Inn in the picturesque mountain section of our state, about thirty miles from our town. The road was billy and sandy and in order to cover all emergencies, Ann and I picked up Deborah at her home an hour earlier than was necessary. Ann at the wheel, wore her smartest motor togethery. Deb was in white as a bride ought to be even when she elopes.

The day was sultry for the time of year, but heavy clouds began to darken the sun as we pulled away from Deb's door.

We rode without talking. Deb couldn't talk. I fancied, because she was taking the most important voluntary step of her life without her parent's permission.

That Mrs. Burns should have a daughter who was obsessed by a positive reverence for the truth struck me as one of life's little sarcasms. For Mrs. Burns herself never shied at any trick by which she could achieve her purpose. She was one of those highly respected persons who talk continually about the horrors of lying, who continually call all mild provocations to account. She was one of those who look for lying in others because they think that thus they prove themselves truthful.

Mrs. Burns painted splendid camouflage for her own hypocrisy and she had so deceived her family that the truth had become the breath of life to her daughters.

Because she was deceiving her parents, Deborah set off to meet her bridegroom in a depressingly melancholy frame of mind.

I did not interrupt her train of thought, and I was glad that Ann had decided to respect it also, until I suddenly perceived that Ann had something on her mind. She was behaving as I had seen her a score of times when she had been in mischief. According to Chrys, Ann's silence was her only symptom of conscience. What she had on her conscience that day was a mystery to me and I didn't care what it was, it didn't matter if it was not linked up to the big event of the afternoon.

Ann had not forgotten her bouquet for Deb. It was a bunch of lilacs of the valley, enormously expensive in November. Ann had confided to me, but the only flower because Deb loved them. Such were the contradictions in Ann's character.

Sometimes I had thought that Ann's mental gears did not fit. For events proved that even while Ann bought the lilacs for Deb's wedding, she was messing up that affair completely.

The sultriness of the day changed in an instant, so that we looked at each other and spoke about it.

A copper-colored sky hung behind us. "Some storm coming," was Ann's quick comment. "Let's button up the curtains and get out the big coats and rugs."

"Some storm" it proved to be. Darkness like that of the chaos which preceded creation settled around us. Rain like that of the Flood pounded through the joining of our curtains.

"Gosh, what if the ignition gets grounded!" screamed Ann above the rattle of the hail on the roof of the car. We had parked after skidding, sliding and slipping in the slush. "Such tremendous noise with it," said Deb with a glance at the auto clock. "And we have still an hour."

I didn't remind her that the mud would last a long time after the storm had passed nor that we could safely descend the muddy Valley Hill which separated her from Ted Moore.

"Ted will wait until doomsday," I ventured.

"I'd like my wedding to move per schedule," said Deb.

The perverse infant, Ann, whistled "Waiting at the Church" while we waited and shivered in the darkness.

Teeth Shine

When the film goes—watch and see

Learn now how teeth look—how they feel—when you combat the film.

Get from your druggist, without cost, this ten-day test. Note the instant results, then look in ten days.

Millions have already done this. Leading dentists everywhere advise it. Now show your home folks what clean teeth really mean.

The war on film

Dental science, the world over, is fighting a war on film. Film is that viscous coat you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. And most tooth troubles are now traced to it.

Those troubles have been constantly increasing. The ordinary tooth paste does not end film, so the tooth brush has proved inadequate. Millions know how well-brushed teeth have discolored and decayed.

It is the film-coat that discolors, not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. And, despite all brushing, few escape these troubles caused by film.

New ways to fight it

Now dental science has found ways to fight film, day by day. Able authorities have proved the methods efficient. Leading dentists everywhere now urge their application.

The methods are combined in a dentifrice called Pepsodent. To millions it has brought a new era in teeth cleaning. And to every home a ten-day test is offered free, so all may quickly know it.

Quick, visible results

Anyone can see and feel what Pepsodent is doing. No old method of brushing ever brought such effects. So we let this test convince you.

One ingredient is papain. Another multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva, to digest starch deposits that cling. The alkalinity of the saliva is multiplied also, and at once. That is to neutralize mouth acids which cause tooth decay.

Two factors directly attack the film. One of them keeps teeth so highly polished that film cannot easily adhere.

The effects of Pepsodent come with every application. We constantly combat, in efficient ways, the teeth's great enemies. And millions of teeth are given new protection and new beauty.

Millions now show the effects

In every circle nowadays you see glistening teeth. Ask the owners. You will find, we think, that they are using Pepsodent.

Go get this free tube and try it for yourself. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear.

Then let the children use it. Their teeth need it most. Very few children reach the age of 15 without some tooth decay.

Let the man who smokes see how it takes the stained film from his teeth.

Let all find out how much cleaner teeth feel, how much safer, when brushed in this new way. Then this ten-day test may bring to your home some lifetime effects.

FREEHOFF MARKET BILL DENOUNCED BY DAIRY FARMERS

Administration Bill Also Is Lacking in Many Respects. Committee Learns.

(Special to Post-Crescent.)
Madison, Wis.—The assembly committee on agriculture is expected to recommend the Freehoff marketing bill for indefinite postponement and to offer a substitute amendment to the committee bill, which was drafted by Alvin C. Freehoff, counsel of the division of markets.

A joint hearing of the agricultural committee of the lower house and the state affairs committee of the senate was held on the two bills Wednesday afternoon. Assemblyman Freehoff of Waukesha county, explained the provisions of his bill which he had drafted himself after considerable study. He stated the bill was opposed by the dairy interests, but he felt the conditions they feared would not be met and that the bill would bring about more efficiency and economy in the division of markets and dairy and food commission.

Paul Berkshire, Fort Atkinson, secretary of the Wisconsin Dairyman's Association, was the first to speak in opposition to the bill declaring it would mean less efficiency and considerable more expense to the state. He gave a brief history of the early organization of the dairy and food commission, established about 20 years ago, and declared the dairy business of the state was worth $275,000,000 per year and therefore was entitled to a department of its own.

J. Q. Emery, dairy and food commissioner for 15 years up to 1915 and who was recently reappointed to that office, read the title of the bill to provide for a better correlation of the work of the division of markets, department of agriculture and food commission, and then denounced its every provision. He declared there could be no correlation between the four departments and that instead the bill was creating subordination.

Several others interested in dairying, marketing, etc., argued against the bill as not bringing about the reform, the efficiency and economy the author had intended or anticipated. When the division of markets bill creating a department of markets and greatly strengthening the law that was passed in 1913 was taken up, it was apparent that several changes would have to be made and when the hearing was closed late in the afternoon it was the general understanding that the committee would cause a substitute amendment to be prepared.

ROCKY ROAD AHEAD FOR NEW TAX BILLS

Anti-Administration Legislators Fight Blaine's Pet Measures.

By United Press Leased Wire.
Madison—Public hearings on the income and surtax bills were set for Thursday, March 24, according to an announcement made Wednesday by Senator R. G. Nye, Superior, senior chairman of the joint finance committee. The hearings will be arranged to permit members of both houses to attend.

Representatives of business interests will present arguments against further increase in the income tax rates. It was stated by committee members.

While Governor Blaine's message of Tuesday was not specific in pointing out the tax bills introduced by the administration, it became known Wednesday, the governor favors enactment of both the Dahl income tax bill and the Severson surtax bill.

The Dahl bill, introduced in the assembly by Assemblyman John Dahl, administration floor leader, calls for a readjustment of the rates but it is not calculated to raise any additional revenue over the present law. The Severson surtax bill is planned by administration forces to raise sufficient revenue to meet the needs of the state. The Dahl bill conforms to the federal income tax so far as exemptions are concerned. The Severson bill levied an additional tax on incomes of $2,000 and above.

A sharp division of both houses over the bill indicated. The administration will have difficulty in putting over its taxation program, stalwart leaders said.

Paul Berkshire, Fort Atkinson, secretary of the Wisconsin Dairyman's Association, was the first to speak in opposition to the bill declaring it would mean less efficiency and considerable more expense to the state.

NO OPPOSITION TO 2-PLATOON SYSTEM

Assembly Bill Makes It Compulsory to Alternate Firemen on Duty.

Madison—The only opposition to the Perry bill providing for a two platoon system for fire departments at the hearing before the municipal affairs committee of the assembly Wednesday, was from members of the Milwaukee fire department who merely suggested that Milwaukee be exempted as the council of that city has already passed an ordinance providing for the platoon system effective July 1. It was also suggested that an amendment might be offered providing that the members be on duty 24 hours and then off duty that long.

Chief Clancy of the Milwaukee fire department spoke against changing the present bill in any particular. The bill leaves the matter of hours with the chief and Chief Clancy said any chief would arrange the hours agreeable to the men.

"The chief is not your fire department," he said, "it is the men. They must have a ruling or governing body, but they are the department and no chief will attempt to put anything into effect that is not agreeable to his men. We must all remember that the public interest comes first, that is what we are there for, but next comes the interests of the men."

It was stated that Milwaukee, La Crosse, Superior and Ashland already have the two platoon system or have arranged for it and that it is sure to come for all cities and the committee was urged to recommend the bill for passage. The bill provides:

The common council, or other governing body of every city, whether organized under a general or special charter, having a paid fire department, shall provide for and the chief engineer of the fire department shall divide the fire fighting force in the fire department into two bodies, or platoons. Each platoon shall work on or off duty alternately, an equal number of hours or as nearly so as the chief engineer of each city shall decide, provided, however, that no member of said platoon shall be on duty for a longer period of time than twenty-four hours, continuously, except in cases of positive necessity by some sudden and serious fire, accident, or other peril, which in the judgment of the chief engineer or other officer in charge demands.

It is provided that the act shall take effect Jan. 1, 1922 which will permit the cities to arrange for the increased appropriations necessary in the next tax levy.

CATLIN PICKED TO LEAD G. O. P. GROUP ON ASSEMBLY FLOOR

Appleton Man Has Been Given Leadership of "Independent" Faction.

Special to Post-Crescent.

Madison—Three caucuses are held each evening in the capital, over measures scheduled to be acted upon in the assembly the next morning. It has been the custom of the socialists to caucus each day for several sessions, but not until this year have any of the other parties or factions met regularly to discuss the pending bills.

Shortly after the 1921 session convened the progressive republicans were called together and it was agreed to meet regularly for a discussion of the bills and resolutions coming before them. As a consequence they have been able to vote together on any matter they desired.

Last week some of the stalwarts or as they have been pleased to term themselves, independent republicans because they supported many progressive measures, met and arranged for a conference each evening and as a result three measures scheduled to pass were killed on the floor Wednesday, the Olson bill repealing the law requiring who butters to be so labeled, the Jordan bill relating to the repealing or continuing of rooms and the Schowksi bill relating to employment of women.

The three caucuses have developed the three floor leaders of the assembly who are likely to be heard in debate frequently. William E. Jordan, for the socialists, John L. Dahl, for the progressives, and Mark S. Catlin for the independents. Dahl and Catlin are both clever young lawyers and some interesting debates are expected between them.

It was stated that Milwaukee, La Crosse, Superior and Ashland already have the two platoon system or have arranged for it and that it is sure to come for all cities and the committee was urged to recommend the bill for passage. The bill provides:

DECLARE CATLIN'S BILL WON'T WORK

Madison—Consideration of Assemblyman Catlin's bill providing for municipal markets was laid over by the committee on municipalities Wednesday afternoon at the request of Mayor Hoan of Milwaukee, who asked that a joint hearing on the Catlin bill and two marketing bills offered in the senate be held when a number of Milwaukee wholesalers and dealers would like to appear, as well as the Milwaukee council.

Former Assemblyman Charles Hart, now one of the city commissioners of Oshkosh, who came to Madison to oppose the Catlin bill, declared it would be too expensive to operate and that it did not provide for sufficient funds. He declared Oshkosh has a city market that has come to stay and that other cities must be given the right to enjoy such markets, but under conditions different from those proposed in the Catlin bill.

FORGERS VICTIMIZE SHEBOYGAN STORES

Sheboygan—Two smooth-working check forgers arrived in the city the latter part of last week, cashed five checks in rapid succession at local stores, and disappeared with $125 as a result of their efforts. The forgeries came to light when the local banks upon which they were drawn, refused to honor them. The police have detailed descriptions of the men, who are supposed to have fled to Milwaukee.

COUNCIL ASKED TO BOND CITY TO PUT UP A NEW SCHOOL

Issue Will Probably Be Left to Popular Vote—Workman Is Injured.

Kaukauna—The regular meeting of the city council was held Tuesday evening in city hall. Resolutions were read establishing the grades on south side streets to be paved this spring. The street grades were fixed on the following streets, Second, Third, Reame-ave., and Dodge-st. and a few other short sections of streets.

A communication from the board of education was read in which the council was requested to bond the city for $200,000 for a new high school, or to put the issue to the vote of the people at the spring election. A vote showed the council in favor of the latter alternative. Several items of routine business were taken up.

Frank Wittman Injured
Frank Wittman, employed at the railroad shops, was seriously hurt Tuesday when his knee was crushed under an oak timber. Wittman was working in the car shops when the timber fell off a truck, causing him to fall and at the same time pinning his knee under it.

He was taken to the home of Henry Wittman for medical attention. It will be some time before he will be able to be about.

Popular Concert
About 500 people heard the concert given by the Swiss yodlers and singers Wednesday evening at the auditorium. The program was under the auspices of the Kaukauna Women's club and was the third number in their winter series of entertainments. The company consisted of five people, and were introduced as members of one family.

A song in the Swiss language by the group was well received, the words so closely resembling the German language that a number of persons grasped the meaning. Several of the songs were translations from the Swiss language.

An especially good number was a rendition of the "Souvenir" by the brother, violinist. A melody of old favorite American songs also drew much applause from the audience.

The favorite of the concert was a song in which the mother of the group gave a few screeches at the top of her voice. It was interpreted by some of the audience as one of the many peculiar calls of the Swiss mountaineer.

Camp Fire Meeting

for Congestion and Colds

But the old-fashioned mustard plaster burned and blistered while it acted. Get the relief and help that mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister.

Musterole does it. It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It is scientifically prepared, so that it works wonders, and yet does not blister the tenderest skin.

Gently massage Musterole in with the finger tips. See how quickly it brings relief—how speedily the pain disappears.

Use Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frostbitten feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

ALL SCOUT FIREMENT TO BE GIVEN FIRE BADGES

Badges are to be issued to all boy scouts in the auxiliary fire department, whether first class scouts or not. It was decided at a meeting of fire squads Wednesday afternoon in the high school. E. H. Henderson, is scout executive.

A ruling had been proposed previously that only scouts of first class rank should be accepted in the fire department. About half of those enrolled had attained this rank and the new arrangement was adopted to retain the charter members. Each will be given a limited time in which to earn first class rank.

Fire drilling is to be the feature of the next meeting. Each of the three squads will rehearse its functions.

GIRLS CAGE TEAM PLAYS ON SATURDAY

Green Bay Y. W. C. A. Girls
Come Here for Game in High School Gym.

Great plans are being made by the girls basketball team of Appleton Women's club for their first independent out of town game which is scheduled for 8 o'clock Saturday evening in the high school gymnasium. The girls will play the Y. W. C. A. team from Green Bay under the leadership of Miss Philpott, physical director of the Y. W. C. A.

The local team expected to go to Green Bay for the game but the plans were changed and the game will be played here.

The basketball committee and the physical directors feel this first home game will determine to what extent the team is supported by girls of the city. They feel that the team is worthy of a big crowd.

Two more home games are planned before the close of the season at the end of March.

The new songs and yells prepared by the committee will be tried out at the game.

The local team plays with girls' rules; with 8 minute quarters, giving 2 minute intermissions between the first and second and third and fourth quarters and 10 minutes intermission between halves.

The team will be somewhat crippled by the loss of Margaret Peters as a regular because of a recently sprained ankle. She and Miss Katherine Ekelund will be "subs."

The lineup is as follows:
Center, Helen Weeks; side center, Estelle Chamberlain; right forward, Gladys Kranhold; left forward, Ella Griesbach; right guard, Irene Heise; left guard, Emma Springer.

Tickets are on sale by all members of the team. The committee is hampered by the impossibility of having mass meetings for the recreation department and hopes that the games will serve the same purpose.

G. O. P. STILL IS MILLION IN HOLE

Washington—President-elect Harding will be inaugurated with more than a million dollars of obligations incurred by his campaign still outstanding, according to officials of the Republican national committee.

No "angel" has appeared to finance the campaign deficit.

"No large contributions have been solicited or are desired," says Clarence Miller, secretary of the national committee.

"The campaign ended with a deficit of $1,600,000, of which about $200,000 was in unpaid bills and the rest in money borrowed."

"A call was sent out for contributions. It brought in $250,000, more than enough to pay outstanding bills."

"Since then a campaign has been started in various states to raise money by small contributions and it is beginning to come in from this source."

Members of the committee emphatically deny that Colonel William Boyce Thompson, New York banker, contributed a large sum toward waging out the debt.

Thompson was chairman of the G. O. P. ways and means committee during the campaign.

Talk of Thompson being given an ambassadorial appointment has been stimulated by the fact that he has been in Florida during Harding's stay there.

BLINDNESS IS NO HANDICAP TO HIM

New York—Alfred Losinsky, a student at Fordham University, is an accomplished musician, has mastered a three years Greek course in two months, and now plans to study for the priesthood.

And all this in spite of the fact that he is but 19 and is totally blind.

"Blindness can be considered a blessing," Losinsky says. "It improves concentration, spurs ambition and conserves energy."

"I thought I had to know Greek to enter Fordham—so I learned it in two months."

What you have to do, you can do, is his motto.

If he is not accepted into the priesthood Losinsky plans to study a better method for the education of men and women.

At present the educational system strikes me as absolutely inadequate," he says. "But I have very definite theories as to how it can be improved."

BRITISH "SOCIETY" IS SLIPPING, WRITER SAYS

London—The backbone of the aristocracy in England has been broken, states George S. Street in the Nineteenth Century, a conservative magazine with traditions.

Society as a selective element exercising a force in morals, politics, and religion no longer exists. Individuals there are of power, of directive force; but the cast system no longer is to be found.

"General society," he writes, "as an institution is gone. Nobody cares. The prophecy that the experiences of war would tend to break down distinctions of class has been justified on the whole, but apart from that, we have been growing for long so like one another that aims of social superiority tend to absurdity. Only the old-fashioned kind keep them up."

"The monotony of communism is never likely to be cured. One man is more powerful, one richer, one has better brains and their fellows treat them accordingly. But mere 'social position' is not a matter about which reasonable people are still concerned."

MEXICAN CHIEFS PLAYING OPEN GAME

President Obregon Places His Cards Squarely Before
His People.

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Mexico City—Open forum meetings every 15 days with newspaper correspondents, both Mexican and foreign, is a new and established policy of President Obregon.

His plans for legislation to be dealt with by the special session of Congress were outlined by the president at his first meeting with the newspaper men.

He gave fully as much promise for a peaceful and prosperous future for Mexico by his manner as he did by his words.

Only once during the hour and 40 minutes that the conference lasted did President Obregon refuse to give a prompt, clear answer.

That was when he was asked for his opinion as to the best kind of an international court.

His limitations
"My vision in Mexican politics is none too broad," he said. "My vision as to world politics is less broad. Therefore I beg to be excused from expressing an opinion."

When the questioning had proceeded for 30 minutes Obregon suggested that each man take his turn and ask as many questions as he desired.

Obregon was asked if his government was taking steps to negotiate a treaty with the United States along lines suggested by Bainbridge Colby and Roberto Tesoro.

"Under my administration no treaty will be needed to force Mexico to discharge her international obligations," was his reply.

"Mexico should begin her new course of action free to accord to all foreigners and nationals a clear recognition of the rights of others. That is a duty Mexico owes herself as much as to others and one Mexico will perform without treaty."

Champagne Served
A staff officer appeared at the president's summons.

"These gentlemen do not appear to be prohibitionists," the president said.

Everyone laughed with the president as the staff officer retired.

He returned with waiters and all joined in drinking champagne to the president's health.

AMERICANS ATE 88.5 LBS. OF SUGAR EACH

(Special to Post-Crescent)
New York.—It took 88½ pounds of sugar to fill the sweet-tooth of the average American in 1920.

That was the per capita consumption, according to the Willett & Gray Statistical Sugar Trade Journal.

High-priced imported cane sugar supplied the great bulk of the 4,084,672 tons consumed.

The bill for the 3,531,506 long tons imported from Cuba, Hawaii, Porto Rico and the Philippines, as well as other foreign countries, amounted to nearly $900,000,000.

The total sugar consumed in the United States in 1920 showed an increase over 1919 of only 17,001 long tons.

Of 1921 and its sugar prospects, "Facts About Sugar," a trade publication, says:

"Indications are that the year now beginning will be marked neither by a serious shortage nor by a disconcerting oversupply. In fact, 1921 should be more nearly a normal sugar year than any since the beginning of the world war."

This trade journal estimates another record breaking year of sugar consumption in the United States in 1921 will steady sugar prices.

The Tell Tale of Gray Hair

To be judged ten years older than you really are, is the toll-tale of gray, streaked hair, which detracts from a youthful appearance as much as a wrinkled face does.

Women everywhere prefer the easy, harmless "Brownatone" method that tints gray, streaked, faded or bleached hair, instantly, to any shade of brown or black.

"Without injury to hair or scalp, 'Brownatone' imparts natural, lasting color that defies detection. Does not rub or wash off, and requires just a few moments to apply."

Guaranteed absolutely harmless. Druggists everywhere sell and recommend "Brownatone." Two sizes—50c and $1.50 with easy, complete directions. Two colors—shading from "Golden to Medium Brown" and "Dark Brown to Black."

Special Free Trial Offer
For a free trial bottle of "Brownatone" send to The Kenton Pharmacy, 600 Coppin Bldg., Covington, KY, enclosing 10c to pay postage, packing and waq tax.

REDS ARE BUILDING IMMENSE AIRSHIP

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Moscow—An airship that can carry 1,000 passengers is being built by the Russian engineer Makhomlin, inventor of the electric train.

It will make its trial flight at Moscow May 1.

The soviet government is backing the airship financially.

"My new plane," says Makhomlin, "will carry 1,000 passengers or 60,000 pounds of freight—about 967 tons. Its top speed will be 66 miles an hour. The motors will be 24,000 horse-power. It will have several berth decks, connected by elevator. An automobile, an airplane, and a motor boat will be carried for emergency."

Russia built the world's first giant flying machine—the Sikorsky biplane. The biggest German airships built during the war had a lift of 45 tons and a speed of 75 miles an hour.

England's latest airship, the 11-80, can lift only 39 tons. It travels 65 miles an hour.

CLEVELAND GOES AFTER JAYWALKERS

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Cleveland—The same of safety is assured by the new traffic ordinance now being considered by city council.

Among the provisions that are expected to decrease traffic accidents are these:

1—Jay-walking—crossing of streets diagonally, especially at street intersections, by pedestrians—is prohibited.

2—Pedestrians shall keep to the right side on all sidewalks and must not stop in the center of the walk.

3—Where there is no safety zone, pedestrians must wait for a car on the sidewalk until the car is within 200 feet of the stop.

4—Throwing anything in the streets which would injure tires is an offense.

5—One-passenger motorcycles must not carry an additional passenger.

Besides these there are the regular rules contained in all codes for the regulation of traffic.

Wide Range in Fines
Penalties run from $1 to $500 and imprisonment for six months for the more serious offenses. A person found guilty for the third time of jay-walking or loitering in the middle of a sidewalk may have to pay as much as $100 and serve 10 days for the offense.

Home-made Remedy
Stops Coughs Quickly

The best cough medicine you ever used. A family remedy easily and quickly made. Bore about 25.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is pure and good.

Four 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. Thus you make a full pint—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly heals the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, famous for healing the membranes.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

An Old-Fashioned
Beauty Recipe

The old-time application of Buttermilk and Cream to whiten and preserve the skin and remove harsh little wrinkles and ugly sallowness is grandmother's recipe and women throughout the country are again using it to insure a beautiful complexion and snow-white hands and arms.

Buttermilk, however, is not always obtainable, but a specialist has at last perfected a method of concentrating buttermilk and combining it with a perfect cream, which you can buy in small quantities ready to use at any first class drug store by simply asking for "Howard's" Buttermilk Cream.

There is no secret about it nor is there any doubt about the result—it's just a common ordinary buttermilk in the form of a wonderful cream, gently massaged with the finger tips around the corners of the eyes and mouth.

If you have not yet tried this simple, easy way to beauty get a small quantity today and let your face be the judge. Your favorite toilet goods counter can supply you.—Schlitz Brothers Co., Volgt's Drug Store, Union Pharmacy, The Pettibone-Peabody Co., can supply you. adv.

Dayton Bicycles

Cost Less Because They Give More

The other day a man asked me to show him my cheapest Bicycle. I did, and this is what I told him:

"The 'first' cost does not always determine the full cost of a bicycle. Often the lowest priced bicycle is the most expensive. The cheapest bicycle is the one that is most economical to ride, year in and year out.

"That is the reason I recommend the DAYTON. It costs less because it gives more. Judged by years of service and cost of up-keep, it is the economical bicycle to buy. It is built to stand hard wear and tear. Then the equipment is of National-known quality—the tires last longer.

"I will be glad to tell you more about it and show you the handsome models for men, women, boys and girls."

OSHKOSH GRAPPLER IN FOR HARD TIME

Hill Determined to Make Short
Work of Stoff Friday Evening.

Attendance at the Lawrence-University of Indiana wrestling meet in Armory G Friday night will be materially increased by the match between George Hill of Appleton and Henry Stoff of Oshkosh, which is to be one of the feature events. The bout is to go one fall.

Hill has been in a hand-to-hand struggle with Stoff in a handicap match, agreeing to throw him twice in an hour Stoff kept out of danger for 37 minutes before he was thrown and then ran away for the remainder of the period, winning the match because Hill did not throw him twice in the specified time. Since then Stoff has been making a lot of noise about his victory, saying so far it is said, to declaring he could give Hill a real battle.

Hill has been itching for another chance at the Oshkosh man and when they meet on the mat Friday night he should fly for a few minutes and will lose no time in proving him down. If Stoff lasts 30 minutes it is because he has a four cat cover or a rabbit's foot in his pocket.

Just the same there are a lot of Oshkosh fans who are coming here to see the bout. They want to get an other look at the giant killer who has been going great guns against the biggest matmen in the game. This will be Hill's only appearance on the mat before his return bout with Paul Martinson, probable March 8. Hill is working hard for that bout and considers his match with Stoff merely as a light workout.

LONDONER OFFERS $750,000 FOR BOUT

Rickard Doesn't Think Much
About Immense Purse Offered in England.

By United Press Leased Wire
New York.—"Nothin' to prevent anyone from makin' offers," Tex Rickard said Thursday, commenting on the second wave of million dollar bids for the Dempsey-Carpenter fight.

Rickard merely smiled when talking of the $750,000 offer of George McDonald, London manager.

So did all who know McDonald. Even if he could believe that Londoners would give him three-quarters of a million and the movie rights for the fight, Rickard intimated Thursday that he would not take it.

"Naturally I want to put on that bout in America," he said.

"The champion wants it in this country and so does Carpenter. Figuring the difference in exchange, foreign countries are poor business prospects."

Having heard nothing from Carpenter or Desamps, Rickard as sumes the change in the "firm" and his suggestion to delay naming the site for thirty days are agreeable to the Frenchman.

It is understood that three states have assured Rickard there would be no interference from the governor's chair. Rickard said Thursday he probably would announce his decision within a week.

Jack Kearns, manager of the championship, is off to Minneapolis where Dempsey opens a vaudeville engagement Sunday night.

"I haven't the slightest idea where Rickard is planning to stage the bout," he said before leaving.

"Any place in the United States suits us. As long as they get the Frenchman in the ring for us sometime we're satisfied."

WANTS GOOD HOMES FOR AMERICAN WORKERS

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Washington, D. C.—Build more houses, is the plea of John Hinder, housing specialist of the United States Chamber of Commerce, but—

"By all means, maintain high standards of living," he adds.

"The country must have more houses. High rents are only one bad result of the house shortage."

"Overcrowding lowers the standard of living. It menaces health."

"Some communities believe they have enough houses. In many such instances families have resigned themselves to limited space in one or two rooms. Other cities know to their sorrow they are far underhoused.

"We must build new houses, but it is just as important that good standards be set. Cities must insist on good light, good ventilation, good water supply and proper sanitary conveniences."

"Insistence on good standards will boost the building program, for good standards safeguard the value of an investment."

The Trail to Prosperity

SMALL business is essential to our national prosperity and has won for itself an important and an enduring place. But small business, however multiplied, cannot undertake to serve the public in a big way where unity of service is necessary.

This must be accomplished by great, highly specialized organizations, managed honestly and efficiently, and functioning to the benefit of all the people.

Such an organization is the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

Its business is to refine crude petroleum into the many products needed by the people—to provide a system of distribution which will make them available everywhere, and to sell at a price which is fair to all.

To accomplish this, 25,000 men and women devote all their time, energy, and intelligence to the task, while the stockholders have invested more than $200,000,000 of capital.

In preparing to meet the demands of industry, agriculture, and motorists throughout the 11 Middle Western states served, the Company is now refining petroleum to the limit of its vast refinery capacity.

It is distributing gasoline, kerosene, and lubricating oils to its bulk stations throughout the territory in order that it may be in position to give immediate service when the Spring and Summer rush comes.

GERMAN FRAULEINS LONG FOR HUSBANDS

War Has Depleted Number of Young Men Eligible to Head Families.

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Montgomery, Ala.—The pretty frauleins of Germany are longing for American husbands.
A local newspaper has just received a letter from J. Stahl of Duisburg, Germany, which gives an insight into conditions in Germany brought on by the war. The writer says:
"On account of the unhappy war, in which more than 1,800,000 young

German men lost their lives, a still greater number of young German ladies are deprived of the opportunity to find husbands.
"This calamity, if I dare call it that, is still increased by the fact that owing to the extraordinary dearth of household furniture and the scarcity of apartments, matrimony has become a luxury and a privilege of the rich in this country."
"In their distress our young ladies look over to America in the hope of finding the conjugal happiness for which reason they appeal to all American bachelors who cannot find a match over there and who are desirous to contract matrimony with a well-bred young German lady, to approach them on this behalf."
"The German ladies asked me to be their interpreter in assisting them to find an American husband."

Duisburg, Germany, Realschulstrasse, 14, Jan. 5, 1921."

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Galpin, 1108 Second-st., were in Oshkosh Wednesday.

NEW YORK'S BLACK MUSEUM NOW CLOSED

(Special to Post-Crescent)
New York—New York's "Black Museum," in the basement of police headquarters, is filled with grim relics of crime and death that have accumulated in 30 years.
Five trunks are there. Each at one time held a dismembered body. One hid the beautiful Elsie Siegel, brutally murdered by a Chinese laundry proprietor in 1909. Another, zinc-lined, lay for nine years in an abandoned house holding the body of A. C. Collier, who disappeared in 1901.

Miss Ruth Berndt and Miss Dorothy Adkins of San Francisco, Calif., visited relatives here Tuesday and Wednesday.

Lasting Reputation

depends wholly on honest value. Victor quality is taken for granted like the sun and the good fresh air. It means that whoever buys a Victrola buys honest materials and perfect workmanship. Now do not let this statement slip away from you when you read this, it is the truth, not a quotation, but a text. A short while ago it was possible to "get away" with substitutes, imitations, anything, but that day has changed and you and we know it. The public wants quality, truth, the bedrock of merchandise, not camouflage that discloses the desire to deceive. They want Victor Supremacy, Victor preeminence, any word you may wish to apply to the Victor that speaks the truth of the finest of all recording instruments.

Our stock of Victrolas and Victor Records
was never more complete, call and try our methods of taking care of your wants you will not be disappointed in
